

Kenneth Hahn State Recreation Area

Caretakers Needed - Help Beautify Your Park!
Participate in a volunteer day held by Generation Water and Mujeres de le Tierra, with support from Council for Watershed Health, Baldwin Hills Conservancy and LA County Parks and Recreation.

Date: Sunday, April 22, 2012
Time: 9am - 1pm
Location: Keneth Hahn State Recreation Area - Parking area above (just north of) the entry booth
Attire: Sturdy shoes, long sleeves, hat or other sun protection, reusable water bottle

What we'll be doing:
Removing several pest plants from the park and enhancing removal areas with native plants! All levels of familiarity with plants are welcome, from novice to expert. Learn more about your park while improving it's health.

What you'll get:
Gloves, water, and snacks will be provided for all volunteers. This lovely park needs your help. Come on out and celebrate Earth Day by improving our park, making new friends, and earning community service hours! We can't wait to see you there!

RSVP Needed
(Event cancelled in case of rain)
Parent or guardian must accompany caretakers under the age of 18

The Kenneth Hahn State Recreation Area opened in 1983, and is one of Ladera Heights/Baldwin Hills best kept secrets. Nestled in the foothills of La Cienega Blvd, this park is an open space gem, where former oil-drilling sites and reservoirs have been transformed into a public park.
